

Company Brief

Introduction

Jian-Miaw Industrial Company was established in 1998 which instituted in Taichung, Taiwan. Our statement is provided the best quality goods with fair price and always delivery the new development products to our customers. Our main products are Barometric pressure automatic components which included pressure control valve, machine valve and correlation of parts.

Further we are well-known and reliable supplier in this industrial regarding to above products for OEM/ ODM in Taiwan and oversea as well. We have very good reputation honor, quality with profession experience to meet your requests.

Our main goal and prospects are to let all companies of this industrial interest in our products. We believe that our prices are very competitive with best quality goods for you to win the success business. We are looking forward to receiving your big support and best advice to improve for our entire process with better service. If you think that there is something that we can do to advance your business more attractive to your customers. We are sincerely to try our best to meet your demand as always.